THE SAMARITAN'S RELIGION

Bill Clary

The Samaritans are a lot like many of us in the world today. They had enough religion to be dangerous, but not enough desire to be right. It takes a lot of effort to live the way the Lord wants and this begins with complete commitment to Him and His work.

To do things the Lord's way means we have to take self out of the center and put Him there. This denial may be costly and not all are willing to make the right decision or have counted what needs to change in their lives. Jesus mentioned taking up our cross and following him and Luke adds "daily" in 9:23.

Worship is not just when it is convenient, but should be regardless of outward situations. We are the participant and God is the spectator and we show Him how much we love Him by our actions during corporate and even private worship.

Are you worshiping God in spirit and in truth, Jn. 4:24? If not, why not?

Think on these things!
